Program overview

The Early Childhood Education (ECE) program at Centennial is committed to ensuring you'll be prepared to become a leader in the profession. A fully funded cohort of the ECE diploma is being run for Black learners in partnership with Tropicana Community Services. This cohort has been created for Black learners from the Greater Toronto Area. This opportunity is funded in partnership with the City of Toronto, the Province of Ontario and Government of Canada under the new Canada-Ontario Early Childhood Workforce Agreement, which provides one-time federal funding to support the retention and recruitment of a high-quality child care and early years workforce.

According to the College of Early Childhood Educators, Registered Early Childhood Educators:

- Design curriculum for child-centred, play-based learning
- Support children's learning and development by responding to their unique needs and interests
- Build caring relationships with children, families, and communities
- Create safe, healthy, and inclusive early learning environments

As a student in the Early Childhood Education program, you'll learn to provide high standards of care to children and their families. This highly regarded offering will teach you to take responsibility for observing the needs of individual and groups of children, and create well-planned, stimulating and responsive programs. You'll come to understand the needs of infants, toddlers, pre-school and school-aged children. Rich classroom experiences will offer you a range of opportunities to understand the content as professors employ a variety of strategies that will allow you to practise and apply what you learn.

Supporting this program are Centennial College's two state-of-the-art early childhood education centres. Used as labs, these centres, located in East York and at Progress Campus, will allow you to observe and/or practise in a high-quality childcare setting.
